DAY 1: ARRIVAL AND RELAXATION

Geothermal Spa and Iceland's Cool Capital

Arrival at Keflavik Airport. The transfer coach for the transfer to the Blue Lagoon will be waiting outside the Arrivals Hall. Please show your Iceland Travel documents to the attendant on board the bus. Please note that this is an unguided transfer, and you will not be met at the airport. The Blue Lagoon is a twenty-minute drive from the airport. Enjoy the views of surreal lava terrain and the unique pollution-free Svartsengi power station as you head to the Lagoon. You can store your luggage at the Blue Lagoon's luggage facility, a small building near the entrance. The staff will store your luggage safely for a small fee.

Relax at the Blue Lagoon with the Comfort Experience, which includes towel rental, a Silica mud mask, and a choice of one drink from the Blue Lagoon's bar. The warm geothermal mineral water will soothe your skin and set you in the perfect Iceland frame of mind! Now that you are soothed and relaxed, it's time to head to Reykjavik on one of the scheduled transfer buses departing the Blue Lagoon. Please show your Iceland Travel documents to the attendant on board and let him or her know the hotel where you will be staying. The rest of the day is open for your own activities. Reykjavik has a wonderful variety of restaurants that suit many travel budgets. Choosing a place to dine will be a fun experience. Much of the food is fresh from the sea or farms, often with an organic focus. It's excellent cuisine for your wellness focused holiday! Your package also includes one entrance to your hotel's spa, which you can use anytime during your stay. Overnight in Reykjavik.

Accommodation: Reykjavik for 3 nights

Travel Tip: If your flight to Iceland doesn't match with the departure times for the airport transfer to the Blue Lagoon, we suggest that you visit the Blue Lagoon as part of your transfer back to the airport on your departure day. You would then transfer on your own to your hotel in Reykjavik.

DAY 2 GOLDEN CIRCLE AND SECRET LAGOON

Secret Lagoon – Gullfoss – Geysir – Thingvellir National Park

Breakfast at your hotel. Combine natural wonders and hot spring relaxation in the Golden Circle region of South Iceland. You will be picked up at your hotel or nearest tour bus stop (check with your hotel staff regarding the tour departure point). A visit to the Golden Circle in Iceland is on the top of many travelers' bucket lists. The scenery is diverse and the activities that result from it are exciting. Your first sight of the day being the multicolored Kerid Volcanic Crater Lake, a fascinating landmark created 3.000 years ago. Next up, you will stop at the Secret Lagoon, one of the oldest natural geothermal pools in Iceland. Your visit is during a quiet time of the day so you can enjoy the Secret Lagoon away from tourist crowds. The pool is nestled among bubbling hot springs and a small erupting geyser. Steam rises from the surrounding geothermal area as you relax in the warm mineral-rich water, with a temperature of 38 – 40°C (100 – 104°F) year-round. The little geyser near the pool erupts every few minutes, lending an exotic backdrop to your visit. After some relaxing time, your tour will head to the Geysir Geothermal Area. As you step on the walking path, your senses come alive as you are immediately greeted by the sulfuric smell, and bubbling mud pools in a land of mysterious steam vents, and dynamic, gushing hot springs. The star of the show is the Strokkur Geyser, which erupts every 5 to 10 minutes. Next visit the astonishing Gullfoss Waterfall. The wide cascade drops in two stages, the first 11 meters (36 ft) then 21 meters (69 ft), roaring and tumbling down to the canyon, splashing up a massive screen of mist. Power from the waterfall can be felt even from a distance. The final stop is Thingvellir National Park, a unique location and significant in both Iceland's culture and geology. Althing, Iceland's parliament, was established by the Vikings here in 930 AD. You can also walk through a rift valley that sits on the divergent edge between the Eurasian and North American tectonic plates. (B)

DAY 3: SOUTH COAST ADVENTURE AND GLACIER HIKE

Spectacular Waterfalls – Amazing Glacier Views – Glacier Discoveries

Breakfast at your hotel. You will be picked up for today's tour at the hotel or nearest tour bus stop (check with the hotel reception about the tour departure location). Drive through the beautiful landscapes of Iceland's south coast, enjoying the view of peaceful farms, many with horses grazing in the fields. If the sky is clear, you can view two famous volcanoes: Hekla (last eruption: 2000) and Eyjafjallajokull (last eruption: 2010). You might even glimpse the Westman Islands far off on the sea. Stop at Skogafoss waterfall, one of Iceland's most iconic cascades (make sure you have your camera ready for a selfie!). Perhaps you might even catch a glimpse of the legendary Viking treasure said to be buried in the falls. Travel east to Solheimajokull, a glacier extending out from the larger Myrdralajokull. Here you'll put on crampons, grab an ice axe and join in on a glacier walk. Your glacier guide will lead you up onto the surface of the glacier for a one-hour walk in spellbinding icy landscapes. Enjoy views of jagged peaks, cool blue ice and wide-open sky, a real treat for photographers! You'll also learn about glaciers: how they are formed and why they are so important to our planet. After the invigorating ice walk, you'll visit beautiful Seljalandsfoss. This ribbon-like waterfall offers the rare opportunity to walk behind the curtain of water (subject to trail conditions at the time of the trip). Return to Reykjavik around 19:00 (7:00pm). Overnight in Reykjavik. (B)

The characteristic centennial wooden church in the center, is surrounded by colorful houses, and the harbour is bustling with small fishing boats and whale watchers. The town also has a nice variety of restaurants, pubs, cafes, a bakery, and a microbrewery. Most recently the town became known from the popular Netflix film Eurovision Song Contest: The Story of Fire Saga. Breakfast at your hotel. Today you will travel out of the city and into the Icelandic countryside. The Golden Circle refers to The 'Big Three' – Geysir hot springs, Gullfoss waterfall and Thingvellir National Park. You'll get to visit all three on this great day tour. Begin the tour with a leisurely soak in the Secret Lagoon, one of the oldest natural geothermal pools in Iceland. The pool is nestled amongst bubbling hot springs and a small erupting geyser. Steam rises from the surrounding geothermal area as you relax in the warm mineral-rich water, with a temperature of 38-40°C (100-104°F) year-round. A little geyser near the pool erupts every few minutes, giving the pool an otherworldly air. A footpath around the pool lets you view the area's bubbling geothermal features, making the Secret Lagoon a hot spring bathing experience like no other.

Then drive to the Geysir geothermal area in Haukadalur Valley with many bubbling pools and spouting geysers. Continue to Gullfoss, the 'Golden Waterfall', The most famous of the country's many waterfalls. Here the river Hvita drops 96 feet (30 meters) in two falls, creating an awesome spectacle. Then onward to the historic and geological wonder of Thingvellir National Park, one of the most outstanding landscapes in the country. The area is surrounded by mountains and encompasses a vast lava plain and Iceland's largest lake. In 2004, Thingvellir was added to UNESCO's World Heritage List. Return and overnight in Reykjavik. (B)

DAY 4: DEPARTURE FROM REYKJAVIK

If your flight is in the afternoon, use your last moments to walk along the harbor seafront and breathe the fresh Atlantic breeze. If you still need to relax, visit one of the city's swimming pools. There you can chat with the locals while lounging in the geothermal steam. (B)

ITINERARY

DAY 1 ARRIVAL IN REYKJAVIK

Arrival in Iceland. On your own transfer to your hotel in Reykjavik. You might also enjoy visiting the Blue Lagoon or the new Sky Lagoon on your way to the city (+$). Your Iceland experience starts when you turn on the hotel's hot water – the water comes right from underground volcano-heated springs and heats most buildings in Iceland! The rest of the day is yours to enjoy Reykjavik. Perhaps you'll visit one of the city's museums, several which have exhibits for children. One of our favorite activities among our families at Iceland Travel is a visit to one of the geothermal outdoor pools. It's so fun to relax and play in the unique warm water, and you'll see many Icelandic families out enjoying the same activity. Each facility has a pool area for small children, as well as arm floats. Some pools even have slides. One of the most popular swimming pools in the area for families is Laugardalslaug, located in the Laugardalur recreational area. This area is also home to the Family Park and Icelandic Farm Animal Zoo. Remember to bring a swimsuit and towel if you visit a swimming pool. You can also rent these at the pool.

Please note that most hotels start check-in around 14:00 – 16:00 (2:00pm 4:00pm)*

Accommodation: Reykjavik for 4 nights

DAY 2 FAMILY DISCOVERIES IN REYKJAVIK

Amazing Flight Over Wilderness Wonders – Great Museums – Food and Fun

Breakfast at your hotel. Make your way to the Grandi area of Reykjavik's Old Harbor neighborhood. You can get there by city bus or taxi. If you have older kids, you can enjoy an easygoing walk through the charming town center (about a 30 – 40-minute stroll from most hotels). Once the area where fishermen worked, the Harbor has become a neighborhood for boat tours and whale watching, museums, art galleries and a fantastic foodie culture.

This morning you are booked for the FlyOver Iceland amazing flight simulated experience. FlyOver Iceland utilizes state-of-the-art technology to give you the feeling of flight. In addition to the flight, you'll also be immersed in interactive multi-media experiences to learn about Iceland's nature and culture. Enjoy two fun and educational experiences before your flight. First, you'll meet a friendly old Icelandic storyteller sitting by the fireside in a Viking longhouse. He'll weave a wonderful tale as shadows act it out behind him. Afterwards, step into the Well of Time, where you'll discover Iceland's past. You'll see how violent forces of fire and ice created the island millions of years ago. Then it's time for the flight! Board special flight seats where you'll hang suspended, feet dangling, before a wrap-around 20-metre (66-foot) spherical screen. A film whisks you away on an exhilarating journey across Iceland. Soar over glaciers, waterfalls, vast volcanic wilderness, and black sand beaches while soul stirring music plays. Special effects, including wind, mist and scents create an unforgettable experience as if you are actually flying over untamed wilderness wonders (the flight is about 8.5 minutes; combined with the pre-flight shows the whole experience is about 35 minutes).

The rest of the day is open to enjoy Reykjavik your way. The Old Harbor area has plenty of activities your family will love. We've included some suggestions (+$):

- Take a boat tour to look for whales or puffins.
- Meet life-size replicas of whales and dolphins and learn amazing facts about marine life at the Whales of Iceland exhibit.

- Check out exciting films about volcanic eruptions, glaciers and northern lights at the cozy Cinema of Fire, Ice and Theatre
- Experience the Icelandic Sagas and Viking history at the Saga Museum with lifelike wax figures
- Board a Coast Guard vessel and see how people worked at sea in the 1950s at the Reykjavik Maritime Museum
- Getting hungry? Head over to the Old Harbor's Grandi Food Hall. Everyone in the family is sure to find something great to eat in this collection of artisanal street food. Afterwards, wander over to the Valdis ice cream parlor to try some of Reykjavik's best homemade ice cream.
- Another idea today is to visit the interactive Wonders of Iceland at the Pearl. You can walk through a real ice cave, feel the power of volcanoes and earthquakes, and watch a planetarium show about northern lights. There is also a 360° observation deck where you can see the whole city and the mountains ringing it.
- Perhaps you'll end the exciting day with a visit to one of the outdoor geothermal pools.

Return to Reykjavik for the night. (B)

DAY 3 GOLDEN CIRCLE AND LAVA CAVE

A Walk Between Continents – Erupting Geysers – Golden Waterfall – Colorful Lava Formations

Breakfast at your hotel. Today remember to wear comfortable outdoor shoes, such as hiking boots, for the visit to the cave. We also recommended bringing a warm and waterproof jacket since the cave sometimes has water dripping from the ceiling. (Temperature in the cave is 0-4°C or 32-38°F). Pick up your rental car and set off to explore the Golden Circle, Iceland's most famous collection of natural wonders (please check your confirmation to see what time your visit to the Lava Tunnel has been booked)! First, visit Thingvellir National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage site. You will see where the Vikings formed the world's oldest parliament in the 9th century and learn about how Icelanders would travel from all over the island once a year to meet here and make important decisions for the country. This is also where the European and North American tectonic plates meet. You can walk on a path that actually takes you between both continents! Afterwards, visit the surreal Geysir geothermal area where a series of hot springs and mud pools bubble away. The Strokkur geyser shoots a high plume of steam into the air every few minutes; keep your camera ready! Nearby is Gullfoss, the Golden Falls, believed to be Iceland's most beautiful waterfall. You can wander on footpaths leading around the falls for amazing views of the glacier water plunging into a deep canyon.

During the day, we also suggest a visit to Fridheimar, a geothermal greenhouse where vegetables are grown using geothermal energy. There is a café where you can enjoy some of the best tomato soup in Iceland. The Efstidalur dairy farm is a great place to stop to try home-made ice cream. In the ice cream café, you can peek through a window overlooking the barn and see the cows who provide the milk for the ice cream. On your way back to town, head to Raufarholshellir, the Lava Tunnel. (Make sure to arrive no later than 15 minutes before your booked time). The certified cave guide will take you into this magnificent lava tunnel. Created by a volcanic eruption over 5.000 years ago, the tunnel shows spectacular colors and lava formations. Your guide will tell you about how the tunnel was created. You might feel as you are seeing a volcano from the inside out! Return to Reykjavik and drop off your car. Overnight in Reykjavik. (B)

DAY 4 WILDERNESS ADVENTURE

Volcanic Views – Colorful Wilderness Wonderland – Hot Spring River or Frozen Ice Cave

Remember to dress well in layers and wear good outdoor shoes (such as hiking boots). Bring a wind and waterproof jacket. If you are visiting Landmannalaugar, bring a swimsuit and towel. Bring a packed lunch and water (the tour will stop at a shop along the way where you can purchase food). You'll be heading into the wilderness highlands of Iceland's interior. No one lives here, but it is a fun place to visit with a taste of adventure included. Expect bumpy roads, water crossings and some spectacular scenery and crisp air.

Breakfast at your hotel. Today you have a choice between two tours: a SuperJeep tour to Landmannalaugar or a minibus and SuperJeep tour to visit the South Coast and a wilderness ice cave.

Landmannalaugar Option:

Board a SuperJeep, a specially outfitted vehicle with large tires that can handle the unpaved rocky mountain tracks of the wilderness. Your driver guide will whisk you through the southern farmlands onto an unpaved mountain track leading towards Mount Hekla. This beautiful volcano is one of Iceland's most frequently erupting (last eruption was 2000). In the Middle Ages, people in Europe believed it was the entrance to Hell. You'll get as close as possible to the volcano before heading into a fire and ice landscapes so bizarre that you'll understand why Hollywood movies have been made in this area. Drive through a river and into Landmannalaugar nature reserve. This is a strange world where steam rises from the ground and the mountains show brilliant colors of red, orange and gold. If you're up for it your guide will take you on a short hike to get a better view over the mountains, glacier ice and steaming hot springs. Then relax in a unique river that is a blend of cool spring water and underground hot springs – it's the perfect temperature for a bath. You've experienced nothing like this: to bathe in a mountain hot spring in a colorful world of ice and fire. Depending on road and weather conditions, today's tour might visit beautiful Thorsmork, a beloved nature getaway for Icelandic families. Start with a visit to the elegant Seljalandsfoss waterfall.

South Coast and Ice Cave Tour Option:

On your own, transfer to the meeting point of the tour where the tour's minibus will pick you up. The tour departs Reykjavik at 8:00am. Enjoy the beautiful scenery of the South Iceland on the way to Vik town, where you'll meet your local glacier guide and board a specially outfitted SuperJeep. Drive scenic back roads to Kotlujokull, a glacier "finger" crawling from Myrdalsjokull glacier. Here you'll get a safety briefing and gear up with a helmet, headlamp and crampons. Take an invigorating 10 – 15-minute glacier hike to a genuine ice cave. You'll certainly marvel at the cave's magnificent colors and crazy shapes! You'll learn how Katla volcano helped shape the ice cave. There will also be time to take pictures. Continue your glacier hike, hunting for secret waterfalls and glacier canyons. You'll also visit one or two other ice caves depending on the current conditions of the glacier. Your local glacier guides are experts in finding the best caves available. Hike back to the SuperJeep and drive to a private black sand beach off the beaten path and away from the crowds. You'll then visit the actual film set of Star Wars Rogue One's opening scenes, along with filming locations for Transformers, Noah and Oblivion. Head back to Reykjavik, stopping at the two famous waterfalls of Skogafoss and Seljalandsfoss. Return to Reykjavik in the evening.

Maximum tour size: 12 participants • Level of difficulty: Moderate
